

---

ALL THINGS TO ALL PEOPLE
SCRIPT RELEASE

---

STONER'S CLUB

Synopsis: Three 1st century Jewish buddies are part of a “stoner’s club.” They love getting together and chucking a few dozen rocks at lawbreakers. But when they witness Jesus forgive a prostitute, an argument erupts. One of the friends is furious that Jesus has spoiled his pastime. Another thinks that perhaps this Jesus is worth listening to. It becomes a moment of choice for the three friends and a reminder for us that we all need Jesus’ forgiveness.

Scripture Reference(s): John 8:1-11; Romans 3:23

Topic(s): Christ, Church, Confession, Conviction, Conscience, Forgiveness, Freedom, God, Goodness, Grace, Guilt, Honesty, Jesus, Loving Others, Redemption, Repentance, Salvation, Savior, Seeking, Sin

Characters

Zip

Brahk

Loofa

Props

“List O’ Sinners” scroll

a small stone

Costumes

Modern or Biblical dress

Director’s Note: This sketch has a delicate balance of comedy and drama. Reign your actors in during the later part of the sketch. I don’t know where we got these ridiculous names. Change them if you like!

Running Time: 10-12 minutes

ZIP and BRAHK are standing in the temple court, talking to themselves.

- ZIP: Well, it's beautiful day in Jerusalem, folks. The sun is shining...
- BRAHK: The pleasant warm wind blows into the temple court...
- ZIP: Bringing with it the smell of the sweat of the Roman soldiers in the marketplace.
- BRAHK: Yes, children of Abraham, it's just the perfect day...
- BOTH: ...For stoning!

ZIP and BRAHK act out the parts of an announcer and a sports contestant.

- BRAHK: At the head of the line-up today, folks, it's the hometown favorite, local Jew made good, Judea's own assistant to the head scribe, Zip Zipporrah! The crowd goes wild! He's got Levitical righteous anger all over his face, folks; he's ready for some serious stoning!
- ZIP: And the offender...a sinner deserving of some real justice, Jehovah-style. This guy is the lowest of low, the sultan of stink, the king of commandment breakers. He's, ah...a big fat liar!
- BRAHK: A liar ?!
- ZIP: Yeah, a liar.
- BRAHK: Can't you think of anything more exciting?
- ZIP: Uh...an idol worshiper?
- BRAHK: Okay!
- ZIP: Yes! An idol worshiper! Yeah! And...a blood eater! A blasphemer! Look out! He's sacrificing local children to Molech! Can our hero administer retribution before it's too late? He selects a stone, approximately cranial size, and hurls it at the heathen swine! Will it connect?

They act it out in slow motion. BRAHK pantomimes being struck, and falls.

- ZIP: A direct hit! Right between the eyes! Yes! They're touting Zip as a modern-day David! They're selling Zip robes in the marketplace!